Nick tells about himself

Hi, my name is Nick. Yesterday was terrible for me because I stayed at home all day. I wanted to go out but it was raining outside. I was feeling tired of being trapped inside the house. I tried to play with my sister but she was doing her homework. My father was reading his book and my mother was watching TV.

After lunch, I decided to sit by the window and watch the street. Some people were waiting at the bus stop. While I was watching the street I witnessed an accident. A car couldn't stop at the traffic lights and hit another car. Luckily nobody injured. Now I am waiting for my friend. We will go to the park to play football together. I injured my knee while I was playing last week but it is okay now. My team needs me!

Unusual people unusual jobs

Steve and Stella Baker live in California. They've got two small children, and they are an average American family, except for one thing: she goes to work, he stays at home and looks after the children. Our reporter spoke to Steve and Stella at their home in San Diego: "My wife has a very good job. She's an electronics engineer, and she works for the US Navy here. So she works, and I stay at home and look after the children." Jim Macartney is a helicopter pilot. He's British, but he lives and works in Africa. "I work for the hospital here. I take a doctor and two nurses in my helicopter to the jungle. There are no roads in the jungle only rivers. People go by helicopter or by boat, or they walk."

Mrs. Betty Brown is sixty-two. She's a housewife, and a grand-mother and a student! Mrs. Brown lives in Oxford, England, and goes to the University there. She studies Japanese, and she is the first in her class. We asked Mrs. Brown how she learns Japanese. "My son lives in Japan, he teaches English in Tokyo and sends me Japanese magazines and newspapers and videos of Japanese TV programmes".
